

In 1939, on the day war was declared, Churchill was recalled to Government as First Lord of the Admiralty, a position he had previously held from 1911-1915. The Board of Admiralty immediately sent a signal to all ships of the Fleet saying, simply:

“WINSTON IS BACK”.

Two generations later, the newly ‘launched’

UK National Defence Association

is proud to announce that their first President is

Mr Winston S. Churchill
